

ABSTRACT OF THE INVENTION

[150] Reagents that block the extracellular activation of β -catenin are used to induce quiescence in normal stem cells, in order to reduce the killing of stem cells by anti-proliferative agents.